81% of Canadians are concerned about retirement expenses.

Top 3 concerns:
1. Lifestyle expenses
2. Medical & pharmaceutical expenses
3. Paying off debt

51% of Baby Boomers expect government pension will be their primary or secondary source of retirement income.

$568.23 is the average monthly payment for new OAS beneficiaries.

$723.89 is the average monthly payment for new CPP beneficiaries.

73% of Canadians say thinking about retirement savings brings them stress or anxiety.

43% of Canadians planning to retire in the next 15 years expect their expenses to decrease in retirement.

59% of retirees said that their expenses have either remained the same or increased since retiring.

51% of Baby Boomers would make lifestyle-related adjustments.

49% of Gen X would rather delay retirement.

59% don't know.

1 in 3 Canadians planning to retire in the next five years has a mortgage.

Canadians that work with an advisor are 25% less likely to feel they've fallen behind on their retirement savings goals.

1 in 3 50 to 65-year-old Canadians have saved $100,000 or less for retirement.

1 in 5 have saved $0 for retirement.