What does the fund invest in?

The portfolio aims to provide investors with a diversified portfolio designed to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing primarily in ETFs that invest in Canadian, U.S. and international equity securities. The portfolio may also invest in other mutual funds or invest directly in equity securities and cash or cash equivalents. Under normal market conditions, the portfolio will have an optimal asset mix of 90-100% equity securities and 0-10% debt instruments. In accordance with its investment strategies, the fund's asset allocation may change over time to reflect the portfolio advisor's current and long-term outlook for each asset class.

The charts below give you a snapshot of the fund's investments on March 31, 2025. The fund's investments will change.

How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Franklin Templeton has rated the volatility of this fund as medium.

This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the investment risk classification methodology section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how Series O units of the fund have performed in past calendar years. Returns are after fund expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the series' returns.

Year-by-year returns

This section tells you how Series O units of the fund have performed in past calendar years. However, this information is not available because the series has not yet completed a calendar year.

Best and worst 3-month returns

Average return

This section shows the value and annual compounded rate of return of a hypothetical $1,000 investment in Series O units of the fund. However, this information is not available because the series has not yet completed 12 consecutive months.

Who is this fund for?

Investors who:

- seek a fund that pursues both capital gains and income, with an emphasis on the former
- invest for the medium or long term

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan, or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series O units of the fund. The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other series, funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. SALES CHARGES

There are no sales charges for Series O units of the fund.

2. FUND EXPENSES

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund's returns.

The fund's expenses are made up of trading costs. Because this series is new, trading costs are not yet available.
